

SOCIETY

BROWNING-SMITH BALL.

About the most brilliant event of the past week in local society was the grand ball at the Congress Hotel, given by Mr. and Mrs. Jack Browning and Mr. and Mrs. Mark Smith to their society friends.

Dancing started at about 9 o'clock and continued until 1 o'clock the next morning. In all about 150 couples were present, representing the leaders of Ogden society and a general social good time was had by all present.

The decorations of the hall for this affair have seldom been rivaled, and never equalled, in the history of local society. Throughout the grand ball room every variety of palm and potted plant was to be seen, tastefully arranged and providing numerous cozy corners and cool nooks where the dancers could rest and cool off.

Another effect which found universal appreciation from those present and called forth many comments was the system of providing lighting. From the ceiling was hung a profusion of Japanese lanterns, which shed a soft shaded glow over the assembled throng, making a scene that will long remain in the memories of those present as one of the most beautiful of society functions. A special committee of reception had been appointed, and the guests were ushered into the reception room immediately on their arrival.

Music was furnished by the enlarged Congress Dancing Academy orchestra, and an excellent program had been selected for the evening, the latest and most popular dance music obtainable. A number of beautifully gowned young women from among the guests served punch to the dancers, and the punch booths were much frequented. Altogether, the affair probably brought out more of Ogden's beautiful women than anything of its kind previously given this season.

Charles Huffer, the local caterer, had charge of the refreshments, and served a dainty and substantial repast after the dancing had been concluded. The invited guests were:

Mrs. Cutler Abbott, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Abbott, Mr. and Mrs. Akerman, Mrs. J. C. Armstrong, Miss Margaret Armstrong, Mr. and Mrs. H. Adams, Mrs. H. G. An entertainment for the ladies of the Presbyterian church will be given on Thursday afternoon next by Mrs. J. S. Gordon at her home. A delightful time is expected.

Miss Kathryn Allison entertained the following guests yesterday afternoon at the new Ogden theater matinee in a box party: Miss Helen Rich, Genevieve Anderson, Mary Fisher and Edith Shields.

The Caledonian society at their regular meeting moved a vote of thanks to Dr. A. S. Condon for his very able address dealing with the Scottish poet Burns.

A surprise party was given by Mrs. Lewis Cowan in honor of Mr. Lewis Cowan Wednesday evening, February 2. The evening was spent in music and games, the leading game being high five. The head prizes were won by Mrs. Richard Cowan and Mr. Ora Fry, the body prizes were won by Mrs. Edna Slater Heath and George Hodson. At 10:30 the guests repaired to the dining room, where the table was beautifully decorated and a sumptuous supper was served. Mrs. Lewis Cowan was assisted by Mrs. Richard Cowan, Mrs. James Cowan and Miss Crystal Cowan.

Proceeding the raffling of a sofa pillow at the home of Misses Mary, John and Virginia Rudiger, a most enjoyable social and dancing party was had by a large party of friends of the Misses Rudiger. Entertainment was provided by instrumental and vocal music rendered by local talent among the invited guests. The lucky number in the raffle was 30 and was won by William Reed. Following is the list of the invited guests: Mr. and Mrs. Walter Zeimer, Miss Edith Way, Miss Edith Bachman, Miss Artie Stimpson, Miss Abby Caber, Miss Mildred Berk, Miss Ruby Gilmore, John Miller, James Miller, Ray Greenwell, Floyd Smith, John McDonald, Claude Corey, Clarence Nelson and M. Jack Way.

Mrs. G. A. Peart and Mrs. A. B. Snowball of Randolph were Ogden visitors during the week.

President and Mrs. W. Bell of the Ogden Portland Cement Co. were visitors in Brigham City on Thursday.

Miss Ada Mack was a visitor in Mt. Pleasant, Utah county, last week.

Mrs. J. W. Austin and daughter, Neta, returned Friday from a three-weeks' visit with relatives and friends in Oakland, Cal. They report a most enjoyable trip.

Mrs. Corinne Hammer and Miss Helen Hartley, two of Salt Lake's well known musicians, were in Ogden on Monday as the guests of Joseph McTear and family.

The Sunday school of the First Presbyterian church gave a social in the parlors of the church last night.

Mrs. Moses Reese and Miss Carey of Ogden are visiting relatives and friends in Logan.

The What-Cum society of the Baptist church met at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon at the home of Miss Hazel Freeman, 2908 Grant avenue.

Mrs. Mary Armstrong and Mrs. W. D. Compton sister and sister-in-law of Officer J. G. Compton, are here from Evanston, Wyoming. They are the guests of Officer and Mrs. Compton.

Mrs. T. J. Cox and daughter, Florence, who have been visiting with Mr. and Mrs. A. Middleton, have returned to their home in Oakland. Mr. Cox is a passenger conductor on the western division of the Southern Pacific.

INFORMAL LUNCHEON.

Mrs. H. J. Porter of West Ogden was hostess at an informal luncheon yesterday afternoon, given in honor of her niece, Miss Phyllis Hobbs, of Tabor, Alberta, Canada.

The house was beautifully decorated with hearts and cupid, the affair being in the nature of a pre-Valentine day party. St. Valentine assisting at the luncheon in a delightfully humorous way and presiding with consummate skill during the evening social doings.

DIX-LOGAN POST.

February 9 coming so near the anniversary of Abraham Lincoln's birthday, the attendance at the post meeting on that date was quite large and great enthusiasm and loyalty was expressed for our great war president. The old veterans of today were but boys then, nearly forty years ago. Two million of them less than 21 years of age left college, store and farm in obedience to his call. In most cases it hampered their future prospects by blotting out from one to four years, for they were in the midst of their schooling, which was dropped when the response was made. Opportunities were lost, and the trend of their future stunted. Such are the facts, but who of the old boys mention it? For when another occasion arises and the drums beat and bugle sound around the street of city, village and hamlet another Lincoln will be ready to fill the gap and there will be a other exodus of boys to the front, your boys and mine, and we will say "God bless you, come back with your shield or on it."

The post will, by special invitation from the apostor, attend services at the Methodist church Sunday, a portion of which will be in commemoration of the immortal Lincoln.

GET ACQUAINTED SOCIAL.

An informal dancing party was enjoyed last Thursday evening in the Weber Academy hall by the Ogden Tabernacle choir and friends numbering about 225 couples. The object of the party was to enable the choir members to get better acquainted socially and to give them an evening of recreation after their season of hard and consistent practice, and a most gratifying success it proved to be, everyone enjoying the evening's program to its fullest extent.

The work of the arrangement committee was plainly in evidence, the hall being prettily decorated in colors of red and green, with two beautiful American flags forming a background for the orchestra. On the front of the balcony, stretching across the hall, was drawn a large music staff, and on it notes were placed, forming the theme of "Auld Lang Syne." Above the middle of the staff was placed a large picture of the first president of the choir, President L. W. Shurtliff.

The large floor was in best possible condition and the music, which was furnished by the Academy orchestra, E. W. Nichols director, was of a very high order.

During the evening letters were read by President Scowcroft from President Jos. F. Smith, Apostle David O. McKay and Hon. Fred J. Kiesel, all ardent supporters of the choir, expressing their disappointment at being unable to attend. A telegram was also received from F. Earl West, the popular tenor of the choir, at present in Ely, Nevada, wishing them a successful party.

A feature of the evening was an impromptu address given by Earl Parlow, in which he lauded Messrs. Scowcroft, Shurtliff and Kiesel in a very humorous manner. He recalled many pleasant recollections of the trip to Portland, Oregon, and Sacramento, California, and also gave a somewhat satirical talk about the trip to Chicago, which the choir did not make, but which they hope to make in the near future. He closed with an earnest appeal to fellow members of the choir to continue in their efforts to raise high the standard of music. His remarks were greeted with prolonged applause.

Delicious "Fruit of Grape" punch, the generous donation of Charles Huffer, the popular local caterer, was served during the evening, and was greatly appreciated.

Ice cream and peppermint and wintergreen wafers and salted almonds were also served.

Among the guests of honor were Presidents Shurtliff, Middleton and Watson of the Weber state and President James Wetherston of the North Weber state.

PINKHAM-WORMAN.

The Methodist parsonage was the scene of a party wedding at high noon Tuesday, when the wedding ceremony uniting Miss Ruth Pinkham and William Worman was solemnized by the Reverend G. W. McCreery.

The bride was beautiful in an elegant red velvet princess, and the groom wore the conventional black. Mrs. Mylo Blackburn, handsomely gowned, was bridesmaid and Mr. Mylo Blackburn was best man. Only a few intimate friends were invited.

Following the nuptial ceremony the bride party repaired to the Faistaff, where an elaborate wedding breakfast was served, after which Mr. and Mrs. Worman departed for a short wedding trip. They will be at home to their friends after February 15.

The home at 2731 Washington avenue was beautifully decorated with brilliant electrical decorations in honor of the bridegroom's chosen profession, and red carnations, the bride's preferred flower, were arranged in artistic profusion about the rooms.

The bridegroom, a well known electrician of Ogden, gained quite an enviable reputation among the picture shows of the West, and the bride has made for herself a host of friends.

O. B. C. BALL.

On Tuesday evening the Royal was in gala attire, the occasion being the initial ball given by the faculty and students of the Ogden Business College.

The hall was beautifully decorated in the class colors, cozy corners artistically arranged and draped, one in purple and old rose, the colors of the shorthand class, another in blue and red, the commercial class colors, the others in college colors, were a pretty feature. Two large mirrors beautifully decorated in old rose and blue, the college colors, and having the letters O. B. C. inscribed upon them were especially admired. They were decorated by the skillful and artistic hand of Mr. Ernest Rowett, a popular member of the college. Banners and artistic drapings about the room with many incandescent lights completed the brilliant and lovely scene.

Fruit punch was served during the evening by two little girls, Venice and Clara Child, attired in dainty white dresses.

A fine program was given, and the music by an enlarged orchestra was a delightful feature of the evening, the guests, over two hundred in number, remaining until 12. Hearty congratulations were tendered the arrangement committee, Misses Emma Kenney, Hilda Child and Eva Child, assisted by Messrs. Ernest Rowett and Garnett Jeffrey, for the efficient and pleasing manner in which all details of the affair had been arranged and carried out.

SURPRISE PARTY.

At the home of Mr. and Mrs. Blair McFarland, on Twenty-seventh street, a very pleasant surprise was given in honor of Miss May Faddis by a number of her friends.

The evening was very pleasantly spent in games, music and other social diversions. Mrs. Maybelle Holst delightfully entertained those present with a selection from "Fielding," entitled "The Little Brown Baby." A visit from the Gipsy fortune teller was a laughable feature of the evening.

All departed at a late hour, declaring the affair one of the jolliest socials of the season.

The gay participants in the evening's pleasure were: Misses Vera Ohlson, Josephine Greenwell, Arilla Burton, Maggie Christine Hunter, Mabel Charlsworth, Beth Watkins, Jennie Thorsen, Lizzie, Martha and Crissie Hunter, May Faddies, Messrs. Mack Farr, George W. Bain, Ray Greenwell, Axel and Elmer Palmquist, Louis Greenwell, Frank Daney, Dolph Shurtz, A. M. Faddies, Mrs. Lottie Greenwell, Mrs. Maybelle Holst, Mr. and Mrs. Laurence Watkins, Mr. and Mrs. Blair McFarland.

1910 CLUB.

Miss Hattie Jones entertained the 1910 Sewing club on Thursday afternoon at her home, 483 Twelfth street.

Following the usual club work music and other social diversion was indulged in, punch was served and a very pleasant hour was spent.

The serving of a daintily prepared lunch was greatly enjoyed by Miss Jones' guests before they repaired to their respective homes.

The club members were: Misses Lorine Farley, Myrtle Stone, Viola Read, Jennie Farr, Hattie Jones, Mesdames Ray Stone, Frank Livingston and Lewis Read.

CHILDREN'S SOCIAL.

The parlors of the First Presbyterian church were filled to overflowing last evening, that being the evening for the "Children's Social and Sunday School Night."

The evening was quickly passed in music and games. A pleasing feature was the refreshments and decorations of the dining hall. Many of the parents seemed to enjoy the night full as much as the children.

YOUNG PEOPLES' BIBLE CLASS MEETING.

On Thursday evening the officers and several of the members of the Young Peoples' Bible class of the First Methodist Episcopal church met at the home of the secretary, Miss Edna Middleton, and had a very successful business session, appointing several committees to look after the interests of the class in the way of building it up in the right place, and making it one of the most interesting features in the church. Last Sunday at 10 o'clock the teacher was delighted to have an attendance of twenty-seven, and is very enthusiastic over this, the first meeting after being organized.

The social committee has for its chairman Miss Addie Rowse, "the right one in the right place," and splendid results in the social line are expected, Miss Rowse being assisted by other energetic social workers.

After the business meeting delicious refreshments were served by Mrs. Middleton and Mrs. Robertson, followed by a social hour, music being furnished by Mrs. Wadsworth and Miss Laird and a whistling solo by Miss Addie Rowse.

PAST NOBLE GRAND.

Mrs. P. A. Beck entertained the Past Noble Grand's club at her home, 429 Twenty-second street, Thursday afternoon, February 3. The time was spent in playing progressive games, after which the hostess served dinner, assisted by her daughter, Miss Mildred. Those present were: Mesdames Meld, Baker, Turner, Wardleigh, Moore, Baker, Tyree, Royal, Sawyer, Lansing, Koons Bogart, Randall, Bigelow, Myers.

S. S. CARD CLUB.

Mrs. S. M. Kershaw pleasantly entertained the S. S. Card club at her pleasant home, 3661 Grant avenue, yesterday afternoon.

Following the usual afternoon program refreshments were served and a most enjoyable social hour was spent.

The members and guests present were: Mesdames Carl Allison, W. C. Camp, H. L. Stonefield, Ebling, Ben Johnson, Stanley Johnson, William Bushnell, R. Harlin, T. Schell, Ezra Richardson, Wright, I. L. Flinders, W. H. Williams, L. H. Becaft, William Taylor, W. C. Parker, T. T. Dalton, Walter Whitlock, J. D. Harrod of Layton, Miss Doris Hunt of San Francisco and Mrs. Lettie Mowrey of Seattle.

ENTERTAINMENT FOR MRS. E. NOBLE.

Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Gosling entertained at their home Thursday in honor of their guest, Mrs. E. Noble of Big Rapids, Michigan.

Cards and music afforded a pleasant diversion, following which refreshments were served and a delightful social hour was spent.

Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. John McCreedy, Mr. and Mrs. R. P. Hunter, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Sears, Mrs. George Hughes and the Misses Marie, Berge and Fannie McCreedy, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Gosling.

RETIRED OFFICERS SURPRISED.

A most enjoyable time was spent last Thursday evening at the elegant home of Mrs. J. L. Warner on Thirtieth street, the occasion being a surprise on Mrs. Warner. Mrs. Helena Goddard and Mrs. Ottinger, the retiring president of the First Ward Primary association.

The affair was in charge of the new primary officers and teachers of the First ward, who took this means of showing their respect to and their appreciation of the labors of the retiring officers, Mrs. Warner having labored as the president for ten years.

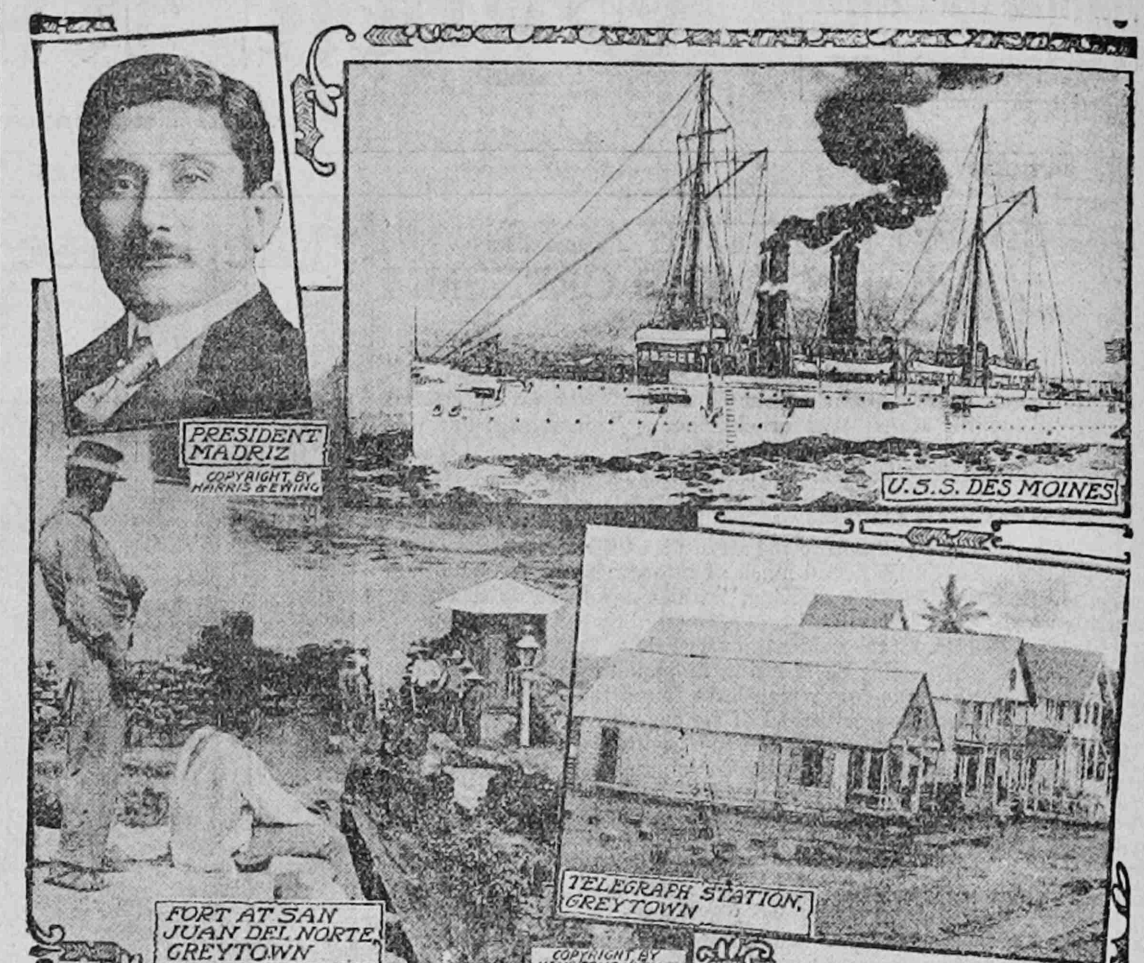

A few interesting songs, recitations and speeches were listened to, after which tables were spread with a most appetizing and delicious lunch, which the assembled guests had prepared. The tables fairly groaned under their heavy burdens, consisting of all the delicacies of the season, prepared by skillful and loving hands.

The guests of honor were each presented with a token of remembrance. And to say they were very much surprised is putting it mildly. There were forty-five present, notable among whom were the bishopric and their ladies.

CLASS SOCIAL.

On Monday evening, St. Valentine's day, the members of the Young Peo-

PRESIDENT MADRIZ OF NICARAGUA AGAIN MENACED BY INSURGENTS

The renewed fighting in Nicaragua and the approach of the insurgents to Managua, the capital of the republic, have again placed the presidential seat of Dr. Madriz in peril. The revolutionists are still headed by General Estrada, who refused to acquiesce in the election by the national congress of Madriz, denouncing the latter as a creature of Zalaya, the deposed dictator. The Washington government is keeping a close watch on the Nicaraguan situation, and has sent the cruiser Des Moines to Greytown (San Juan del Norte) the port bombarded by the insurgent gunboat Omotepe. There are extensive British interests at Greytown, and the British cruiser Scylla, under command of Captain Theisger, has been stationed there for some time to prevent damage. Recently Captain Theisger made an official declaration that there should be no fighting at Greytown. He requested Captain Shipley of the Des Moines to attach his signature to the no combat at Greytown order, but the American officer did not comply. The belief was held at Greytown that Captain Shipley had received instructions from Washington to have nothing to do with the order. Greytown lies on the east coast of Nicaragua, and is the principal seaport of the republic. It is also known as San Juan de Nicaragua and San Juan del Norte.

WHY HE SMILED.

Jack was smiling when he arrived home about midnight. This was so unusual that Jill requested an explanation.

"Oh," he said in response to her inquiry, "I made $20 tonight."

"Must have been a bunch of others," Jill retorted, with a knowing toss of her pretty head.

"No, it wasn't poker," Jack said in his shortest manner. It was better than that. You know Cutem, the butcher is a member of our club. Well, he doesn't get there very often and he is usually very careful about what he takes when he does come. But last night some of the boys induced him to partake of things with which he was not familiar."

"Oh, you horrid men!" Jill interposed.

"He didn't really have too much," Jack went on without noting the interruption, "but he thought he did. I didn't know anything about this at the time, and when I saw Cutem sitting in front of the fireplace, I remembered that we owed him $40, and as I had the money in my pocket and didn't know when I'd have it again, I went over to settle with him."

"Hell, Cutem," says I. "Guess if you don't care I'll pay you that forty I owe you now." And I held out two $20 bills to him."

"Cutem looked at them for several minutes, slowly shaking his head. He reached out and took one of them."

"But I owe you $40," I exclaimed. "You only took one bill."

"That's all right, old man," said Cutem, slowly. "You may be right, and I may be right, but we'll call the bill square. I'm not going to run any chances of having it reported around this club that old Cutem ever saw double."

"And do you know," added Jack, "I couldn't induce the fellow to take the other twenty!"

"Biglins has been trying to borrow money again."

"How do you know?"

"He goes around talking about the herititude of men and the frailty of friendships."—Washington Star.
